Artisan Design Group Wins 4 Awards at Builders' Show

San Diego's Artisan Design Group received four silver awards at The Nationals event held during the International Builders' Show in Las Vegas on Jan. 19.

The company was honored in three categories: Best Clubhouse, Best Interior Merchandising of a Model Priced Over $1 Million, and Best Design Center.

ADG won two awards in the Best Design Center category, including one for its own design center, which opened in 2004 as the first urban design showroom in downtown San Diego. ADG plans to open a new downtown showroom in late spring.

The company's design of the Atlas at Hillcrest Social Lounge for developer D.R. Horton Inc. was honored in the Best Clubhouse category, and its design of the Sapphire Tower Penthouse Model for Centurion Partners LLC was honored in the Best Interior Merchandising of a Model Priced Over $1 Million category.

ADG President Jaimi Julian Thompson was thrilled about the recognition. "The Nationals is the most prestigious awards program in the United States, and sets the benchmark for innovations in new home design, marketing and sales," said Thompson.

ADG offers design services and custom remodeling to homeowners and residential developers.
